Today, when some of our bedrock values face strong headwinds, we belong to a spiritual community that encourages us to practice and defend our beliefs and in the process to more fully develop our humanity.

This is what we support with our financial pledging. As we open our 2019 Pledge Campaign, we look forward to investing in leadership development, expanded programming, and strengthening and refining our community partnering.

We have much to celebrate: the ordination of the Rev. Oscar Sinclair, the successful operation of our Program Council model, the participation of 50-plus members in General Assembly and our progress in paying off the building’s debt--less than 5% left!

As we look to 2019, when building insurance and programming costs will increase, we ask members and friends to participate in pledging, which greatly adds to the efficiency of our planning. You will soon receive a letter with more detail, including news of a matching fund donated by Bruce Raymer for those who can increase their pledge to 3% of gross income.

Thank you for all the ways that you support our church, our home base for refining, affirming and living our values.
October Services
Unitarian Church of Lincoln

10AM Sunday, October 7 - “LGBTQ Welcoming Service”
Worship Leader: Dr. Pat Tetreault
Worship Associate: Sändra Washington
Music: Chris Sayre

10AM Sunday, October 14 - “A Place for Our Whole Selves”
“You who are broken-hearted, who woke today with the winds of despair whistling through your mind, come in,” Rev. Kathleen McTigue writes, “…This place is sanctuary, and it is for you.” This week we will look at the role of Unitarian Universalist congregations that have been and continue to be places of sanctuary and safety.
Worship Leader: Rev. Oscar Sinclair
Worship Associate: Amy Miller
Share the Care: Lincoln Unitarian Foundation
Music: Natalie Tavlin (jazz vocalist)

7PM Third Thursday Worship, October 18 - “Wonder and Awe”
Has there been a moment in your life where you truly felt in absolute awe of something that happened? Have you looked around you and felt enveloped in a sense of wonder? Join us for a quiet and contemplative evening of sharing these moments in an alternative service which is quite out of the ordinary. Our evening will be graced with the gift of lovely singing bowls, gongs, and chimes provided by Deva Kula.
Worship Leader: Chelsea Krafka
Worship Associates: Christine Starr Davis, Megan McGuffey

10AM Sunday, October 21 - “Love What’s in Front of You”
The theologian Richard Rohr reminds us that the message of Hebrew scripture is clear that what we are called to do is ‘love the widow and orphan’, yet ‘we [keep] loving church services instead of reality.’ How do we lower the walls of sanctuary, to ensure that what we talk about here is not disconnected from the rest of the world?
Worship Leader: Rev. Oscar Sinclair
Worship Associate: Schuyler Geery-Zink

10AM Sunday, October 28 - “Samhain”
In this all ages service, we will celebrate the Gaelic holiday of Samhain. Falling midway between the fall equinox and the winter solstice, it is said that Samhain is a liminal time, when we celebrate and remember those who have gone before us.

Sanctuary

’Cause all my favorite people are broken
Believe me
My heart should know

Orphaned believers, skeptical dreamers
You’re welcome
Yeah, you’re safe right here
You don’t have to go

- Over the Rhine

Orphaned believers, and skeptical dreamers has always struck me as a good description of a lot of Unitarian Universalist congregations. Our theme this October is Sanctuary, and for many of us, Unitarian Universalism is itself a sanctuary from parts of the world, a place where we are valued regardless of what we believe or who we love.

At the same time, Unitarian Universalist churches can be beacons, pointing the way to a better way, and calling folks into relationship and justice. This is an important tension in our tradition that we will spend some time exploring in worship this month: how can we be a sanctuary, and a place that proudly proclaims, through open doors, who we are and what we are about?

How we balance these two needs is a question that defines what our mission in the world is -- we are a place of loving hearts and helping hands, yes, but not just for ourselves. How will we take this sense of sanctuary that we feel in this place, and take it with us as we show up in the community?

“How is it that music can, without words, evoke our laughter, our fears, our highest aspirations?”
— Jane Swan

Greetings from the music side of worship!
The church year has started off with great things happening. We were so fortunate to have Rev. Kimberely Debus join us for Water Communion and conduct a workshop with the Sunday Services Cluster. We so enjoyed her singing with the choir, and her music helped us get out of our comfort zone a little. We made up our own arrangements and harmonies and it was a lot of fun.

The Third Thursday services are providing a fantastic new forum for musical growth. The A Street Band is taking center stage at a few of these services, providing emotional and energetic music from inside and outside the Unitarian faith. The planning and execution of these services between Oscar and me has been very fun. Where else can you attend a service and hear Johnny Cash?

We are eyeing a date in December to feature the talents of members of our congregation who might otherwise not consider performing. If you have a hidden musical talent you’d like to showcase please let me know!

All the best,

Bob Fuson, Interim Music Coordinator

What Gift Do You Bring?

Last month, I trained our volunteers for all aspects of our Sunday School program. I really emphasized how volunteering for Sunday School is a ministry, what our teachers and assistants are doing is incredibly meaningful and important work. I asked the volunteers to reflect upon what gifts they were bringing to the children and youth in their classrooms. These were some of their responses:

"Presence: listening, empathy, being with, being connected. UU Values"

"Caring and observation. I truly care for the kids and want them to have the opportunity to learn about UU values."

"Patience and love of discovery. Wonderment"

"Listening and learning"

"The gift of patience and understanding of children from my 18 years of teaching experience"

"Being present in the moment"

"To share joy in imperfections"

"I will bring my passionate, compassionate and curious nature to the classroom to encourage children to think kindly and creatively to learn about their world"

"I bring my creativity and excitement for learning"

"I am grateful for the opportunity to interact with young people with an authentic voice. My gift is my pleasure in listening"

"Love for the children who represent hope and joy for our future."

WOW! What an incredible group of volunteers we have! This was only the tip of the iceberg of some of their responses. There are a whole lot more which would not all fit into one article. Please thank our teaching and assisting volunteers when you see them. We are truly lucky to have their gifts in our congregation.

Peace, Faith and Love,

Chelsea Kafka

Nut Allergy Awareness

We had a child at the end of September who went into severe allergic shock. They did not ingest nuts, the likelihood is that they came into contact with nut residue unseen on a surface. These things are not always visible. It is important that we all stay vigilant to make sure that no one who is using the building bring any products containing nuts into the Sunday School area. You may have noticed that the Sunday School snack for kids is Rice Chex. This is the only product that we have found that is safe for multiple types of allergies and is gluten-free. This could literally be life or death, please take it seriously.

Please Bring Us Your Pumpkins!

October 14 we will be having an Ingathering where the children and youth will decorate pumpkins for an 'at will' donation to UNICEF. This has become a tradition and it is so much fun. Medium or large pumpkins preferred. They can be brought to the Gathering Place. Thank you so much!

• Learn about the church - Pathways to Membership classes. There are two classes and they are offered twice a year - October & March - Membership in our church has benefits and responsibilities.
• Make an annual financial pledge
• Sign the book
• Show up and stay connected!

Grounds Task Force Notice

The Grounds Task Force has been informed. We thought you might want to know also.

If a Grounds Task Force person would like to do their work on the north side of the building during the hours of noon to 5:00PM they must inform the office at least an hour in advance. The office must then inform the Bluestem staff that the person will be working on the north side of the building. The office will describe the person to the Bluestem staff so that they are easily recognizable. Bluestem teachers must be able to have a way to determine whether a person who is in the vicinity of the kids has any reasonable purpose for being there. Their primary responsibility is to the parents of the children within their care.

Pathways to Membership classes

Saturday, October 13 • 9:00AM - Noon

Nuts & Bolts - This class reviews the covenant we make with each other; how the church functions (staff & committee structure); how we govern ourselves; a brief history of the Lincoln Unitarian Church; what brings us together as a congregation - our bylaws and policies.

If you don’t use email - visit with Judy on Sunday morning at church - or let the office know and Judy will call you on the phone - or call or text Judy at 402.805.7866.

Clinton Elementary Partnership Update

From Mark Weddleton

“I’ve been working with the kiddos in 3rd and 4th grades on reading and vocabulary,” Cindy Maly writes. “I am certainly getting my eyes opened and loving every minute of it!”

Cindy is part of a team of UU volunteers at Clinton Elementary. Our partnership has gotten off to a strong start this year. UUs lead dance and coding afterschool clubs. Several participate in the literacy tutoring program. Others are classroom volunteers. One’s a weekly library assistant and some help out at one-time events.

If you think this might be your calling to serve, contact Mark Weddleton at mweddelton@gmail.com.
Be a Candidate for the Nominations Committee

From Kathy Disney

From the bylaws: There shall be a Nominations Committee composed of five members. Each year, at the Winter Congregational Meeting, two members shall be elected, except that every third year one member shall be elected. The term of membership on the Nominations Committee is three years.

This is the year we elect one member at the December 9 Congregational Meeting and the Nominations Committee is looking for at least three candidates to run for that position. What does the Nominations Committee do? Per the bylaws: The Nominations Committee shall provide to Members the names of the nominees for positions on the Board of Trustees, Program Council Chair, and the Nominations Committee that are to be filled by election at the Congregational Meetings.

Leadership development is crucial to the successful future of our church and the Nominations Committee plays a part in that effort. If you are interested in learning more about serving our congregation in this way, contact Chair Kathy Disney at kedisney@hotmail.com or at 402.560.0358. Anyone can self-nominate for this position by completing the self-nomination form found on the church’s website (home page – about – our leaders – bottom of page – nomination forms: elected/appointed positions) and turning the form in to the office or get a printed form from the church office, available by request. Be a candidate for the Nominations Committee – we need YOU!

Friendly Faces Going On

In January, a new program began, conceived by Shirley Maly, blessed by Rev. Oscar, implemented by Jackie Egan. It’s made up of church people who want to be visited and church people who want to visit. Some people may want to do both!

The Friendly Faces goal is for church members and friends, who self-identify, to receive church visitors, who self-identify, to talk about upcoming church events, personal experiences and interests, as well as just about anything else that may come up.

Those who wish to visit others are asked to contact people wanting to be visited, to schedule time and place and SHOW UP! It’s been a real success so far with 12 or so people wanting to be visited and about 14 visitors. And it’s fun!

Visitors are specifically asked NOT TO ASK for $$ but just to offer a friendly visit to get acquainted and in some cases RE-acquainted.

Maybe you’d like to become a Friendly Face. We still need some people who wish to visit, and some who wish to be visited.

This is a church-wide program designed to build relationships between members. Visitors arrange to come to the home or meet elsewhere with church members who want to be visited. If you want to become a visitor or you would like to have someone visit you, contact Jackie Egan (402.435.6111 egan@neb.rr.com) or Shirley Maly (402.477.6787 smaly@nttne.com).

NOTES FROM THE OFFICE:

• Beginning in September, a Dazzler (office volunteer) is scheduled in the office from Noon to 3:00PM Tues, Wed & Thurs. Jean will still be onsite but possibly working in another part of the building.

• It is time to renew the front door codes. We do this about every two years in order to maintain the security of the building. You will receive an email sometime this month if you have a code.

• We have an abundance of ants. Please do your part to not leave food remnants on tables, floors and in sinks. If you have a meeting, take out your trash and recycling.

We will have multiple games, a silent auction, and multiple small prizes throughout the night. Come share potluck and fellowship. This is a low key event and full of fun! We also have a lot of small prizes for multiple costume categories. This is separate from the full moon ritual on October 28. The Red Grail always accepts donations for the Food Bank and for the Avalon Project. For more information please visit our website at www.orderoftheredgrail.org or join our Facebook group!

Photography is a meditative spiritual practice for me. I am inspired by the colors and intricacies of nature, and thus, I often use a macro setting on the camera to be as close to my subject as possible. I frequently spend hours in the garden or at the lake looking for small wonders. I love the patience and stillness required to photograph the shimmer on a dragonfly’s wings, or the light which can be caught on the softness of a flower’s petal. I am fascinated by shadows, light, and texture. Photography enriches my sense of connection to the natural world. My photos remind me to be continuously grateful for the beauty that surrounds me.
Did You Know?
Lincoln has taken one more step toward sustainability. The City Council unanimously approved the PACE (Property Assessed Clean Energy) ordinance in August. PACE is a financing tool for upfront costs for energy and water efficiency and renewable energy projects. Private financiers provide loans to owners of commercial businesses; these loans are attached to the property, not the owner, so there is no cost or risk to taxpayers. This is a win-win; PACE combines energy efficiency and savings with economic development. Applause to the city council and mayor for its bipartisan action to benefit the community!

California is the 2nd state (after Hawaii) to set a 100% clean energy goal. In September the governor signed legislation that commits the state to achieving 100% carbon-free energy by 2045. For a large state as influential as CA, this is significant.
