Proposed Committee Ideas funding paths document
DRAFT APRIL 2025
(Currently being considered at the Program Council)

For programming ideas that would require funding outside of the annual budgeting process:

1. A committee gets an idea
2. The committee with the idea talks to their program council cluster leader, which might suggest other committees to collaborate with.
3. The committee with the idea researches the financial cost and volunteer resources needed to manifest their idea.
5. The cluster leader brings a proposal for the idea to the Program council for any additional collaboration ideas (and for formal Program Council approval - and buy-in?)
4. The program council chair (with committee (and Program Council?) support) brings a formal request to the board for funding.

For building-related expenses and projects that would require funding outside of the annual budgeting process:

1. A committee gets an idea
2. The committee with the idea talks to their program council cluster leader, which might suggest other committees to collaborate with.
3. The committee with the idea researches the financial cost and volunteer resources needed to manifest their idea.
4. The cluster leader brings a proposal for the idea to the Program council for any additional collaboration ideas and for formal Program Council approval and support.
5.. If the financial cost is $3,000, or less, the program council (on behalf of the committee) applies to the Anniversary Fund for the funding.
5. If the financial cost is more than $3,000, the program council chair (with committee support) brings a formal request to the board.
